Mt. Sinai Shriners Honored Big Tab Collector

Aidon Orr of Orange, VT, was honored at the recent Fall Ceremonial by Mt. Sinai Shriners. Young Mr. Orr for the past three years has been collecting can tabs from his family and friends. Aidon is 12 years old and a student at Orange Center School in Orange.

The family estimates that he collected over 50 lbs., then donated them to the Shriners through Past Potentate Winston Harper. Below is his family and Shriners, who presented him with a certificate for his achievements. His grandmother Sandy Carroll says they're onto this year and he is collecting tabs again.

Mt. Sinai Shriners #3

From the Potentate's Desk

Greeting Nobles,
What a year we have had. Parading for the most part has come to a close. Hope that you were able to spend time with family and friends. Being visible as Mt. Sinai #3 Shriners representing your temple is one of the greatest feelings one can share with the public. Shriners Hospitals for the Children is our goal in making a change to someone's life. Yes, as you know Shrinedom 2017 concert was an event that we tried to raise awareness to the fraternity, things did not go as planned. We are in the process of reaching a resolution. Please be patient. As we enter these winter months let's make sure that preparations have been made for a better year. For those of you who attended the January meeting there were a few items given out. The butterfly is one of my mom's favorites--the transformation of LIFE. As for the duck--beauty, repulsion, and direction. The holidays will be upon us and I wish each of you the best in the festive times with family and friends. The new list of officers will be looking at advancing to new positions in the advancement of our temple. They need your support. Go MT Sinai #3! Keep your head up and may God be your guide.

Thank you,

Ill Sir Pierre Letourneau

Shriners Hospitals for Children and actor RJ Mitte team up to prevent bullying and promote acceptance

Hospital system provides tools for patients and the public to #CutTheBull and #SeeTheAbility in all people

Overall, reports show that bullying among children in the United States is dropping. However, kids with disabilities are still twice as likely to experience bullying, according to the National Bullying Prevention Center. October is National Bullying Prevention Month and Shriners Hospitals for Children is teaming up with award-winning actor, former patient and bullying survivor, RJ Mitte to combat bullying.

According to the National Bullying Prevention Center, bullying can cause depression, anxiety and other health problems, as well as poor academic performance. As part of the national #CutTheBull campaign, free resources for patients and the public are available at cutthebull.org. Public service announcements, a social media challenge, tip cards and an anti-bullying ambassador tool kit can help kids and adults #SeeTheAbility in all people.

“Growing up, my disability made me a target for bullies,” said Mitte, who has cerebral palsy. “I was harassed, knocked down and even had my hand broken. Now, I have an opportunity to give a voice to people with disabilities and promote acceptance.”

Like Mitte, many Shriners Hospitals patients have scars or physical differences that put them at greater risk for being bullied. As part of their ongoing care plans, staff at Shriners Hospitals across the nation offer various empowerment programs to help patients succeed socially and emotionally.

Shriners Hospitals for Children provides specialty pediatric care for children with orthopaedic conditions, burns, spinal cord injuries, and cleft lip and palate, regardless of the families’ ability to pay. Shriners Hospitals also offers psychological support, rehabilitation, life skills training and community outreach programs that help children with physical differences feel confident.

“Our goal is to help our patients succeed and reach beyond the traditional limits of their conditions,” said Gary Bergenske, chairman of the Board of Directors at Shriners Hospitals for Children. “We do this at Shriners Hospitals every day. This campaign gives us a chance to reach outside our hospitals to help all people see beyond physical appearances to the ability that lies within each child.”

Athletic Trainers: Experts in Injury Prevention and Treatment

By Brianna Santiago, MBA, LATC, Sports Health and Medicine Coordinator at the Springfield Shriners Hospital

The Sports Health and Medicine Program at Shriners Hospitals for Children — Springfield unites the expertise of physicians, surgeons, therapists and athletic trainers to care for children and adolescents with sports injuries. The athletic trainers are on the front lines of preventing, diagnosing and treating injuries related to physical activity.

Range of responsibilities

The athletic trainers in the Sports Health and Medicine Program play a unique and important role both on and off the field, serving children under age 18, of all skill levels, in a variety of settings. In addition to athletic training services, our staff trainers are responsible for providing educational and community outreach activities for schools and recreational and club sports teams.

The Springfield Shriners Hospital's athletic trainers are experts in the diagnosis and treatment of a wide range of acute and chronic sports injuries, including strains and sprains, tendonitis, neck and back pain, shoulder and arm pain, hip and knee pain, torn knee ligaments, meniscal tears, shin splints and fractures.

Sports Health and Medicine physician, Julio Martinez-Silvestrini, M.D., holds a monthly Sports Health and Medicine Clinic at the Springfield Shriners Hospital for athletes who have sustained injuries. Our athletic trainers refer athletes to this clinic and develop guidelines for returning to activity.

Compassionate care in the community

The athletic trainers at the Springfield Shriners Hospital provide their training services to a variety of sporting events, including youth wrestling and summer soccer leagues. Local high school wrestling coach Bill Meeker was one of the first coaches to take advantage of the hospital's athletic training services.

"I've been involved with youth, high school and college sports for over 30 years," he said. "Nothing compares to the value of an insightful trainer. The ability to rapidly assess an athlete can mean a world of difference. Adding in the ability to treat and plan only improves the experience."

When an injury does occur, the Springfield Shriners Hospital team works with athletes, families and coaches to ensure a safe and swift return to play.

"At our state wrestling meet, we had a serious fracture," added Meeker. "I know many could have addressed the injury competently, but our trainer efficiently stabilized the patient. Beyond that, she was able to provide a level of comfort to all those involved that I've rarely seen. I truly believe that what the Springfield Shriners Hospital offers is a step above what we see on most fields of participation."

Seminars

Each year, Shriners International and Shriners Hospitals for Children host a variety of educational opportunities for fraternity members and hospital staff members. These meetings are provided to support ongoing education, collaboration and fraternity/co-worker comraderie.
